

How do you think each character will feel about the plan to remove the tree to make way for a market? Write your predictions in the spaces below.

