

A TWINKL ORIGINAL

Knights and Dragons, Unite!

Stombart
←

Dractor
→

A TWINKL ORIGINAL

Knights and Dragons, Unite!

First published 2020 by Twinkl Ltd.
197 Ecclesall Road, Sheffield S11 8HW

Copyright © Twinkl Ltd. 2020

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording or by any information and retrieval system, without permission in writing from Twinkl Ltd.

This is a work of fiction. Names, characters, businesses, places, events and incidents are either the products of the author's imagination or used in a fictitious manner. Any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead, or actual events is purely coincidental.

Twinkl is a registered trademark of Twinkl Ltd.

Twinkl Educational Publishing

The noble knights of Stombart were
the bravest in the land;
They trained to fight the dragons with their swords and shields in hand.

Sir Gorrell was uncomfortable with swords and angry steeds.
He found it all too scary and preferred to do good deeds.

The mighty Dracton dragons were the fiercest in the world; They trained to fight the knights with giant flames that blazed and swirled.

Young Aristar disliked the flames, which scorched as they shot by. She found it all too scary and preferred the cooling sky.

One morning, while the knights were all in training for a fight, Sir Gorrell slipped away towards the woods and out of sight.

And as the dragons roared and shot their flames into the air, It got too much for Aristar, who crept out of the lair.

Sir Gorrell skipped along till something stopped him in his tracks.
“Hello? Is someone there?” he called, unable to relax.

Sir Gorrell saw a dragon with a blue and scaly snout...

“Don’t hurt me!” said the two of them together, with a shout.

“Oh, I would never hurt you!” they responded, both confused.
The presence of a friendly foe had left them quite bemused!

“Don’t worry,” said Sir Gorrell. “I’m just keeping out the way, As fighting makes me nervous and they’re practising today.”

“Me too,” responded Aristar, “I find the flames too hot! I hate the fact that dragons have to breathe them such a lot.”

If only we weren’t enemies, we wouldn’t need to fight And maybe, if we worked together, things would be all right.”

Then suddenly, Sir Gorrell turned to Aristar and said, "Forget this silly training; let's put on a show instead!"

They put their heads together and devised a cunning scheme To join the knights and dragons into one united team.

They laughed and worked all afternoon, with growing, hopeful grins; This plan could bring a peaceful truce where everybody wins.

They headed for the castle, where the knights all gazed in shock.

“How did you catch a dragon?” asked the biggest knight, Sir Jock.

“I didn’t,” said Sir Gorrell. “She’s not scary; she’s my friend! We’ve come up with a plan to bring our squabbles to an end.”

Then, Aristar took flight and as she did, their plan was clear.

The banner flew behind them and Sir Gorrell gave a cheer.

The message in the sky said:

They headed next to Dracton Lair to show off their new plan. The dragons shouted, "Aristar, how did you catch this man?"

"I didn't," she responded. "He's not scary; he's my friend! We've come up with a plan to bring our squabbles to an end."

Then, Aristar flew back towards the village from the wood And headed for the castle, where the great arena stood.

They worked until the sun went down and left a dusky glow, Preparing all the things they'd need for putting on a show.

The knights back at the castle huddled tightly in a scrum;
A show seemed odd to many but it did appeal to some.

“I do quite like to juggle,” said Sir Thea with a smirk.
“And I’ve been known to dance a wicked rumba,” said Sir Kirk.

The dragons back at Dracton were all huddled in a scrum; A show seemed odd to many but it did appeal to some.

“I am quite good at singing,” Ruxley mentioned, feeling shy. And Cloudie said, “I might give writing poetry a try.”

Sir Gorrell sat with Aristar upon the empty stage.
The audience consisted of a donkey and a page.

"At least we tried," said Aristar. "I guess they just don't care."
But then, as she was talking, raucous laughter filled the air.

They looked up to the sky and saw the most amazing sight:
A host of flying dragons, each one carrying a knight!

Sir Thea called, "I guess that we can give this thing a go!"
"It's worth a try," called Maddox. "Now,
let's get on with the show!"

Stombart
←

Dractor
→

Continue the learning with exclusive teacher-created resources to engage and inspire children at school, at home and beyond...

Visit twinkl.com/originals

Knights and Dragons, Unite!

The brave knights of Camelot were the bravest in the land. They trained to fight the dragons with their swords and shields in hand.

The fearless and courageous knights with magic and angry words. They fought all the way and planned to go back.

The mighty Dragon Dragons were the bravest in the world. They fought the knights and knights. They fought the knights and knights. They fought the knights and knights. They fought the knights and knights.

One morning, while the knights were all in training for a fight, the dragon came along towards the castle and all of a sudden, the knights were all dead. The dragon was the one who had done it. It got too much for the knights who were all of the land.

Questions

1. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

2. How do you think the dragon felt?

3. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

4. How do you think the dragon felt?

5. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

6. How do you think the dragon felt?

7. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

8. How do you think the dragon felt?

9. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

10. How do you think the dragon felt?

Knights and Dragons, Unite!

Types of Sentences

Do you like dragons?

Can you think of anything more exciting than a fire-breathing dragon?

Types of Sentences

1. Who are you talking to?

2. What is the dragon doing?

3. How do you think the dragon feels?

4. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

5. How do you think the dragon felt?

6. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

7. How do you think the dragon felt?

8. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

9. How do you think the dragon felt?

10. What do you think the knights did to the dragon?

Knights and Dragons, Unite!

Find the Rhyme

fight

let fight

shy clouds

Write some sentences to describe the dragon.

Knights and Dragons, Unite! Story Sequencing

Cut out the pictures from the story. Then, stick them in the correct order.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

Describe the Dragon

Choose the words and phrases that describe Aristotle the dragon. Can you add any of your own?

hairy scary
wingy brave
yellow string
purple pointy horns
long large wings
glint

Write some sentences to describe Aristotle.

Castles

High Walls

Write some sentences to describe the castle.

Knights and Dragons, Unite! Challenge Cards

Which word completes this sentence? They trained to fight the knights with giant flames that blazed and _____.

•-sailed
•-swirled
•-swirled

Which suffix completes this sentence? A host of fly _____ dragons, each one carry _____ a knight!

•-ed
•-er
•-ing

Knights and Dragons, Unite! Challenge Cards

Can you find five different adjectives in the story?

How did you catch a dragon?

Knights and dragons have always been enemies.

But when Sir Gorrell and Aristar meet
by chance, the unlikely friends set out to bring peace between their lands.
It's going to take quite a show to unite them!

visit twinkl.com

We help those who teach.

We provide educators around the world with entire schemes of work, lesson planning and assessments, plus online educational games, innovative augmented reality and lots, lots more.

